The aim of AMERICAN QUARTERLY is to aid in giving a sense of direction to studies in the culture of the United States, past and present. Editors and contributors therefore concern themselves not only with the areas of American life that they know best but with the relation of those areas to the entire American scene and the world society.

Manuscripts, prepared in conformity with the The Chicago Manual of Style, 13th ed., should be submitted in three legible copies. Since manuscripts are evaluated anonymously, the author's name should appear on the title page only. Manuscripts should be addressed to the Editor and be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope. No responsibility will be taken for injury or loss.
